PLATE I

TO THE
HON. HENRY C. MURPHY,
LATE
UNITED STATES MINISTER AT THE HAGUE, EMINENTLY DISTINGUISHED IN THE FIELD OF
NEW NETHERLAND HISTORY AND LITERATURE,
THIS WORK
IS RESPECTFULLY INSCRIBED.

PREFACE.

NEW NETHERLAND, worthy Reader, may be truly called, The Mother of States, for her Territory extended originally from the Chesapeake unto Cape Cod. In course of time, however, the Connecticut river became her Northern Boundary, and so continued to be until 1650, when, by the Treaty concluded at Hartford, her bounds upon the Main were fixed at the west side of Greenwich bay, being about four miles from Stamford, Conn., and upon Long Island, at Oysterbay — the portion east of this last mentioned locality belonging to the English, and the westernmost part of said Island, to the Dutch. Thus, in fine, did it come to pass, that the present States of Delaware, New Jersey and New York are the legitimate and, we are glad to know, the prosperous offspring of our own NEW NETHERLAND, which Henry Hudson, then in the employ of the Dutch East India Company, discovered, as our Annals show, in the Year of Grace, 1609, long before Plymouth Rock was known.

Colonization followed, and with colonization came Civilization, and with civilization, a regular form of government.

Who were the Pioneers in the mighty work of wresting this vast territory from Barbarism—who were they who first established Churches, Courts, Schools, and Hospitals; introduced Agriculture, Navigation, and the kindred Arts of civilized life, and thus laid the foundation of Institutions, which, multiplying in course of years, have since constituted the honor, the pride and the glory of the EMPIRE STATE?

Reader, the object of this little Book, which is commended to your patient indulgence, is to rescue from oblivion the Names of those brave and worthy Men. Their bodies

“are dust,

And their good swords are rust,

Their souls are with the Saints, we trust.”

COUNCIL.

This body acted in a twofold capacity; as an Executive Council and as a Court of Justice. The Members could not be sued before, and were not amenable to, a Court of inferior jurisdiction. On extraordinary occasions, it was usual to adjoin some of the Inhabitants or Public Servants to the Board, and the Captains of the Company's ships, when on shore, had a voice therein. The Schout-fiscal had a seat, but no vote, in the Council; when he acted as prosecuting officer he retired from the Bench.

 Johannes La Montagne,
 Brian Newton,

* Was forcibly thrust from and expelled the Council by order of Director Stuyvesant, 28 Feb., 1651; but so high was his character as a jurist and a man, that orders were sent from Holland the same year for his reinstatement. Before these were received, Mr. van D. had removed to Staten Island, where he acted as agent for Mr. Van der Capelle. He is mentioned as deceased in 1658, when the Rev. Joannes Hanius, who married Margareta van Dincklage, applied as heir at law, for a settlement of the estate.

* Midwout and Amersfoort included in this Bailiwick.

† On the appointment of Tonneman to New Amsterdam, the Directors in Holland, 16th April, 1660, offered the Sheriffalty of Breuckelen to Resolved Waldron. But their wishes were not carried out, "as he was not a good penman."

‡ Boswyck and New Utrecht annexed to the Breuckelen district, which was thenceforth called. The Five Dutch Towns.

§ Gravesend annexed to the district, which now constitutes Kings county.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data.

Furthermore, it is noted that regular audits are essential to identify any discrepancies or errors early on. By conducting these checks frequently, the organization can prevent small mistakes from escalating into larger financial issues.

In addition, the document highlights the need for clear communication between all departments involved in the financial process. This includes the accounting, sales, and procurement teams. Regular meetings and reports can help ensure that everyone is on the same page and that the financial goals of the organization are being met.

Finally, it is stressed that the financial data should be analyzed regularly to identify trends and opportunities for improvement. This analysis can provide valuable insights into the organization's performance and help inform strategic decision-making.

The second part of the document provides a detailed overview of the current financial status. It includes a summary of the revenue generated from various sources, as well as a breakdown of the expenses incurred. This information is presented in a clear and concise manner, making it easy to understand the overall financial picture.

The document also includes a comparison of the current financial performance against the budgeted figures. This comparison shows that the organization is performing well, with revenue exceeding expectations and expenses remaining within the allocated budget.

However, there are some areas where the organization is falling short of its targets. These areas are identified, and the reasons for the shortfalls are explained. This information is used to develop a plan of action to address these issues and improve performance in the future.

The document concludes with a series of recommendations for the management team. These recommendations focus on improving financial controls, enhancing communication, and optimizing the organization's resources. It is hoped that these actions will lead to a more successful financial future for the organization.

THE NINE MEN.

Represented Manhattans, Breuckelen, Amersfoort and Pavonia, and the principal classes of the community, viz: the Merchants, Burghers and Agriculturists. The duties of this Board were: First, to promote the honor of God, the welfare of the country and the preservation of the Reformed Religion, according to the discipline of the Dutch Church. Second, to give their opinion on matters submitted to them by the Director and Council. Third, three of the nine, viz: one Merchant, one Burgher, one Farmer, were to attend for a month in rotation on the weekly Court, as long as civil cases were before it, and to act subsequently as Referees, or Arbitrators on cases referred to them. If in case of sickness or absence any of these three could not attend, his place was to be filled by another of the Nine Men of the same class. Six retired from office annually, to be replaced by an equal number selected from twelve names sent in by the whole Board. They held their sessions in David Provoost's School-room, and were the immediate precursors of the Burgomasters and Schepens, and of a Municipal form of government in the city of New Amsterdam.

He was Lieutenant of the Burghers' Corps, New Amsterdam, in 1651; Schepen in 1653, 1654, 1656, and 1657; afterwards Commissary at the Delaware and at Esopus; Burgomaster in 1674, and after filling various other responsible offices, died in 1717.

BURGOMASTERS AND SCHEPENS.

New Amsterdam.

These functionaries succeeded the Nine men on the Incorporation of the city of New Amsterdam. They were appointed by the Director General and Council until January, 1656, when, on petition, they were allowed for the first time the privilege of nominating and submitting a double number to the Director and Council, from which the latter were to select the members of the Board for the ensuing year; but when the nomination was made, it was resolved on the 2d of February, by the Director and Council, "for concord and harmony's sake," some of those nominated having rendered themselves, by former disputes, unacceptable to the authorities, to continue the present Burgomasters and Schepens for another year, and only to supply the vacancies in the Board of Schepens by the nomination of two respectable persons. The nomination of their successors was not conceded until 1658. The incumbents entered office on 2d February of each year, unless otherwise stated.

ORPHIAN MASTERS.

New Amsterdam.

The Deacons of the Church were considered the Guardians of Widows and Orphans. On the death of either a man or a woman, leaving children, they were bound to notify, through the Clerk of the church, the decease to the Director and Conneil, and afterwards in 1653 to the Burgomasters, who were ex officio Orphan Masters, and to apply for the appointment of Curators, unless the Orphan Court was specially excluded by the will of the deceased. The Burgomasters, who were burdened with many other duties, were subsequently relieved of the office of Orphan Masters at their own request, and persons specially appointed to discharge such duties. But the Burgomasters, notwithstanding, occasionally acted in the absence of the proper Orphan Masters. The number of the latter at first was two, but this was increased in 1658, to three, "as the business of the Court was largely augmented, in consequence of the great mortality that year." The legal powers and jurisdiction of the Court are very fully set forth in Rooseboom's Recueil, Chap. 28.

VENDUE MASTERS.

This office and its perquisites belonged, ex officio, to the Provincial Secretary, who performed its duties by Deputy. After the organization of a municipal government for New Amsterdam, a question arose as to whether the City Clerk, or the Secretary of the Province was Vendue Master within the City limits. It was then adjudged by the Supreme Court, that the sale of property, both real and personal, under judgment of the Director and Council, belonged to the Secretary of the Province, or his Deputy Vendue Master. The City Clerk was Vendue Master to the Court of Orphans, and in cases where judgment had been rendered by the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

The first members of the Medical profession in New Netherland were, of course, Ship Surgeons who practised on shore whilst their vessels lay in port. Some of these settled at the Mannhattans and eked out a subsistence by being sometimes employed by the government. The following extract from the Dutch Records, illustrates the state of the Profession in those days:

“1652, February 2. On the petition of the Chirurgeons of New Amsterdam, that none but they alone be allowed to shave; the Director and Council understand that Shaving doth not appertain exclusively to Chirurgery, but is an appendix thereunto; that no man can be prevented operating on himself, nor to do another this friendly act, provided it be through courtesy and not for gain, which is hereby forbidden.” It was then further Ordered, That Ship-Barbers shall not be allowed to dress any wounds, nor administer any potions on shore, without the previous knowledge and special consent of the Petitioners, or at least of Doctor La Montagne.

This is the earliest order on record regulating the Practice of Medicine in the State. In 1658, Messrs. Kierstede, Varrevanger and L'Oragne were the only Surgeons in New Amsterdam.

It was the first Hospital on the Island of Manhattan.

SCHOOLMASTERS.

“School-keeping and the appointment of Schoolmasters depend absolutely,” say the Dutch Records, “from the Jus Patronatus, and require a License from the Director General and Council.” In New Netherland, as in Holland, Church and State were intimately allied, and the office of Teaching thus became, in some respects, semi-ecclesiastical. The duties of the Parochial Schoolmaster, as set forth in his commission, were to promote Religious Worship, to read a portion of the Word of God to the people, to endeavor as much as possible to bring them up in the ways of the Lord, to console them in their Sickness and to conduct himself with all diligence and fidelity in his calling, so as to give others a good example, as becometh a devout, pious and worthy Consoler of the Sick, Church Clerk, Precentor and Schoolmaster, in which capacities all persons, without distinction, were commanded to acknowledge him. These, however, were the duties only of Teachers of Schools belonging to, or under Consistories or Churches, or who were appointed to Towns or settlements not yet provided with a Minister. Teachers of Private Schools, though necessarily licensed, were not connected officially with the Church.

OF

NEW AMSTERDAM.

GREAT AND SMALL BURGHIERS.

Conferring special privileges on Inhabitants of commercial cities is an offshoot of the Roman Law, whereby it was introduced into Holland, and in time transplanted to New Netherland. Burgher right procured for the citizen Freedom of trade, Exemption from toll and from being sued by a fellow burgher, except in his Burgh. He could not be imprisoned without bail, nor tried for any offense after the lapse of a year. He was saved from attaind and confiscation, if found guilty on a capital charge; for he could not for any crime forfeit more than his life and one hundred guilders. Burgher right by descent or inheritance was gained only through the male line. Females it is true, might be Burghers, but if acquired by purchase, the right was vested in them only whilst Spinsters or Widows. They lost it if they married those not Burghers, but recovered the privilege on decease of such husband. Neither their children nor those of Jewish Burghers inherited the parent's privilege.

In New Netherland. "Great Burghers" only could fill public offices and enjoy exemption from confiscation and attainder, if convicted of a capital offense. All members of the Council, all Burgomasters and Schepens all Ministers of the Gospel and Commissioned Officers of Militia, past and present, with their descendants in the male line, were declared by this Charter, GREAT Burghers. Others might become such also on payment of the sum of Fifty guilders into the City Treasury.

SMALL Burghers were entitled only to Freedom of trade and to the privilege of being received into their respective Guilds. Natives of the city of New Amsterdam, residents there for a year and six weeks before the date of the Charter, Burghers' sons-in-law, City store keepers, salaried Servants of the Company, and all paying twenty-five guilders, were entitled to have their names inscribed on the roll of SMALL Burghers.
